BIOGRAPHY

Atom is both an artist and a showman; he paints his amazing moon art in front of live audiences. Using just a can of spray paint and a knife, he takes a blank canvas and turns it into a stunning piece of art while crowds watch, fascinated. His paintings are dazzling lunar landscapes, space worlds that exist only in science fiction. And what is even more remarkable about his art is that he creates them start to finish in about 3 minutes!

He first learned how to paint small paintings with spray cans years ago while traveling in Mexico. Atom found the technique of layering paint and removing it with a knife to be just what he was searching for. Using this style of painting, he could create infinite varieties of extremely colorful paintings that were exciting and otherworldly. Atom currently travels the country painting and performing for college and non-college audiences.
