

Finesse Mitchell

Comedian & Relationship Expert

From BET's "Comic View" to "The Tyra Banks Show" from "Comedy Central Presents." to the "Today Show", Finesse Mitchell got his big break when he was asked to be a feature player on NBC's "Saturday Night Live" and was promoted to cast member in 2005. Long before becoming a regular on SNL, this author, actor and former insurance salesman made an impact in the world of stand-up comedy, with sold-out live performances all over the country and abroad. Born and raised in Atlanta, Georgia, Finesse graduated from the University of Miami. A former student-athlete who was a walk-on for the Hurricanes football team, Finesse played with other UM alumni such as Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson and Warren Sapp. Finesse is also a distinguished member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity Incorporated. Finesse is also a writer for ESSENCE Magazine. His monthly column, "Oh, Brother!" offers up hip, hilarious and honest relationship advice to over 1 million ESSENCE readers.

In 2007, Finesse authored his 1st book, "Your Girlfriends Only Know So Much", (Simon Spotlight), giving no-holds barred dating advice to women needing real answers to the same old, baffling relationship questions. Finesse's "Comedy Central Half Hour Special" is a favorite on the network and one of its highest rated shows. The funny man can also be seen in the movies "Who's Your Caddy?", "The Comebacks" and "Mad Money." With the success of his column and book, Finesse has also entered into the world of Relationship lecturing / mentoring. You can catch him speaking and performing at colleges around the country.
